ACTIVITIES

I LEARN : I am always willing to learn new stuffs related to web technologies and robotics typically on Web Development and Arduino. Learning by Doing is my way of diving in new stuffs.

I READ : I like to read books/articles related to my field of interest, tech magazines and tech articles, either on the internet or buying a physical copy. If I get an option to choose from free movie ticket or a book, I will prefer to grab the book.

I CREATE : I love to design and code websites, I hand code sites after designing them myself in Photoshop focusing on keep things simple and attractive UI giving a nice UX.

I TEST : I test myself on different grounds be it the testing of my knowledge or my actions. I examine my works/actions from every aspect before performing them.

I ENJOY : I like & enjoy making others understand the stuffs I know, which in turn also helps me to brush up my own concepts. Making something new & creative also gives me immense pleasure.
